December 1st 2019 - First Sunday of Advent

From the Desk of the Pastor...

Perhaps you remember the parable of the ‘foolish virgins’, who not only came unprepared but also “began to nod, and then fell asleep. Unprepared and not ready for the bridegrooms’ coming, they were shut out of the wedding banquet (Mt. 25:4). Two weeks ago, St. Paul in the second reading warned us of the day of the Lord “is coming like a thief in the night” (1 Thess 5:2), therefore let us not be asleep like the rest, but awake and sober. The theme is renewed today: “Be constantly on the watch! Stay awake! You do not know when the appointed time will come.

It appears that Jesus considers “sleep” as a risk we take in life, because sleep disconnects us from reality. In sleep conscious awareness of the external environment disappears as we plunge into a world of fantasy or sub-consciousness or even unconsciousness. In this state of condition, we are more often than not, vulnerable to rude shocks from the real world: whether they be the “thief in the night”, the ‘appointed time’ etc. or the ‘long delayed bridegroom’.

While it is an undeniable axiom that we need to get a good night’s sleep, lack of good sleep can also make drowsiness notoriously hard to resist for a longer period of time in order to make up what was lost. Having experienced ‘sleep’, we know that ‘sleep’ steals over us without our consent. We know how we oscillate from drowsiness to wakefulness. We fall asleep, suggesting that sleep is the path of the least resistance; it is a state into which we naturally drift, unless we take special precautions.

Therefore Jesus exhorts us to be vigilant. Christ implies that this world and its anxieties weigh against our soul much as the state of sleep weighs against our consciousness and state of reality.

How do we stay awake then? Be watchful! Remain alert? And not lose hope!

How do we fight the sedative effects of our busyness and the fast pace of life and our worldly preoccupations, distress, failures, pain?

Our forefathers, ancestors and the early Church show us how profitable it can be if we adhere to pius, devotional and charitable practices of fast, corporal and spiritual works of Mercy. When we pray we maintain ourselves into wakefulness.

Jesus is asking us: Are you awake? May the Lord find us so, at this coming

CHRISTMAS GIVING TREE

The Multi-Purpose Center of St. Vincent de Paul and the Riley Center are sponsoring a Christmas giving tree again this year, and are soliciting gifts for boys and girls, men and women in shelters operated by St Vincent DePaul. A “Giving Tree” will be set up in the back of the church on December 1st. Please choose ornament tags from the tree to buy gifts. Return those wrapped presents with tags attached and place them under the tree at any of the Masses the following weekend, December 7th-8th.

The Giving Tree is going up early this year as distribution of the gifts will be on December 13th.

Thank you for your generous contribution in the Season of Advent.

Season of Advent

On Sunday, December 1, we enter into the Advent Season, it begins the Church’s liturgical year. Advent encompasses four Sundays and weekdays leading up to the celebration of Christmas.

Advent is a time of expectation and hope. “Advent” means “arrival” or “coming,” and it prompts us to pause each day in December and remember why Jesus came at Christmas.

The wreath and candles are full of symbolism tied to the Christmas season. The wreath itself, which is made of variegated evergreens, signifies continuous life.

The circle of the wreath, which has no beginning or end, symbolizes the eternity of God, the immortality of the soul, and the everlasting life we find in Christ.

During the season of Advent, one candle on the wreath is lit each Sunday. Each candle represents an aspect of the spiritual preparation for the coming of the Lord, Jesus Christ.

The first candle symbolizes hope and is called the “Propost’s Candle.”

The second candle represents faith and is called “Bethlehem’s Candle.”

The third candle symbolizes joy and is called the “Shepherd’s Candle.”

The fourth candle represents peace and is called the “Angel’s Candle.”
